

FEASTERVILLE YOUTH, RIDING MOTORCYCLE, FATALLY HURT IN CRASH WITH TRUCK NEAR HIS HOME; VICTIM, ROLAND STOLTZ, 20, PRONOUNCED DEAD AT THE SCENE

Driver of Truck, Horace L. Beck, Croydon, Apparently Swerved Vehicle to Avoid Striking Dog — Victim a Former Driver of Stock Cars in Races in This Area

A Bucks County youth was fatally injured yesterday morning at 11:40 in an accident which State Police say occurred when the driver of an ice truck swerved his vehicle to avoid striking a dog. The victim of the accident is Roland Stoltz, 20, of Feasterville. Stoltz was riding his motorcycle on Bustleton Pike at Fifth street near his home.

The ice truck driven by Horace L. Beck, 25, Fourth avenue, and State road, Croydon, was travelling west on Bustleton Pike. Stoltz was riding his motorcycle east on the same highway. State Police who investigated the accident state that Beck apparently swerved his truck to escape striking a dog, and that Stoltz on his motorcycle crashed into the truck. Stoltz was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident and removed to a funeral home in the vicinity.

Stoltz is single and was employed by Elmi Corp., Feasterville, as a truck driver. He was a graduate in the class of 1949, Lower Moreland high school. He was a former driver of stock cars in races at Langhorne, Hatfield and Pitman, (N. J.) Speedway. On April 22, this year he was awarded a trophy at Hatfield Speedway. He had a stock car of his own and in addition often drove other cars.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stoltz; two brothers, Gerald and Edward; a sister, Carolyn, all of Feasterville.

The Rev. William Babinsky, pastor of Feasterville Community church, will conduct the services Friday at two p. m. from a funeral home in Southampton. Friends may call Thursday evening. Interment will be made in Forest Hills Cemetery, Somerset.

State Trooper John McDonough said the truck was driven by Horace Beck, of Croydon. McDonough said that Stoltz's motorcycle struck the side of the truck, which upset. Stoltz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stoltz, who heard of the accident, hurried to the scene and found their son in the highway.

Extensive damage was reported to two vehicles following an accident. Continued on Page Four

PEACE TALKS

By Howard Handleman

(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 29—(INS)—

Communist chieftains in Korea were on the spot tonight—placed in the position of choosing between all-out war or peace.

General Matthew D. Ridgway—refusing to back down before Red propaganda charges—told the Communists it was up to them to make the "war or peace" decision.

The United Nations supreme commander fired a telling shot in the "war of words within a war" when he called "an unjustifiable delay" in the broken-off peace talks.

Ridgway's straight-forward message was handed to Red liaison officers at the edge of the Kaesong truce zone this morning.

He bluntly refused to agree to a Communist demand for "reinvestigation" of the alleged Allied bombing of Kaesong last Wednesday. In previous messages the UN commander called the Red charges "malicious falsehoods" fabricated for "insidious propaganda" purposes.

The Communists broke off the peace talks last Thursday on the pretext that the Allies violated the truce zone with the purported bombing of Kaesong.

Ridgway's message this morning throwing the responsibility back to the Reds was brief and to the point. He left it strictly up to the Communists to move for renewal of the armistice parley when he said:

"As stated in my previous message 25th August, when you are Continued on Page Four

Acres of High Priority Timber Destroyed in Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29—(INS)—

Acres of high priority timber lay in a mass of charred wreckage today in the wake of a six-alarm fire that enveloped the Lumber and Millwork Co. of Philadelphia with flames that could be seen for miles.

The fire broke out shortly before six o'clock last night and flashed through the stacked lumber, leaping across the street to a row of homes, and generating such intense heat that residents a block away were forced to evacuate the area.

Ernest A. Heaton, president of the company, estimated damage to the lumber at a half million dollars and damage to buildings and equipment at another $200,000.

Fire apparatus from throughout the city converged on the area, and extra police were summoned to cope with an estimated 10,000 spectators that jammed the area. Traffic was snarled within a mile in all directions.

Police surgeons called by emergency announcements on radio and television stations treated 25 firemen who were overcome by smoke.

Investigators of the fire marshal's office said they were told that the fire was started in dry grass outside the wooden fence enclosing the lumber yard. Firemen indicated the grass may have been ignited by sparks from a passing locomotive.

Individual protests were made. Daniel McNally, president of the Yardley Manor Civic Club, said the zoning ordinance should remain unchanged for property owners' security. Frank T. Chestnut, a Continued on Page Two

The brothers have not seen each other for nearly three years, but hope to meet at home soon. Cpl. Lawrence A. Hauler arrived home for a 30 day furlough on July 12th after being stationed in Japan and Korea for the past two years. He was attached to the 90th field artillery, 25th division, as a mechanic in the Service Battery.

OBJECT TO STORE CENTER IN YARDLEY

Council Reserves Decision Until Next Meeting Sept. 5th

YARDLEY, Aug. 29 — Establishment of a shopping center on Main street between the Reading Railroad and Oxford Valley Road was debated at length Monday night before the Yardley Borough Council.

The council has approved a zoning ordinance change on first reading, but reserved final decision until its meeting September 5. Residents of Lower Makefield Township and the Silver Lake area joined a number of Yardley residents in opposing the plan.

Local Legionnaires and a spokesman for Andrew Derrick, who owns the site of the proposed center, were joined by several other supporters.

The site and another section on which the Legion post home stands formerly were owned by the post. Sale of two-thirds of the tract to Derrick by the Legionnaires recently was effected.

Petitions favoring the change were received from Derrick, bearing more than 200 names of people in the area and Legionnaires. The Reading Railroad sent a letter stating it had no objection.

Opposing petitions included that of the Lower Makefield Township Civic Association and the Veterans of Yardley, a recently organized group.

Old Eddington School Again Offered for Sale

EDDINGTON, Aug. 29—The old Eddington public school is again sporting a "For Sale" sign.

Considerable interest was manifested in the public auction held at the school building a few months ago, when it was purchased by Guido Fiori, Bensalem township, in the interests of a Pentecostal church in Philadelphia. Mr. Fiori had stated at that time that the church officials planned to renovate the building for use as an edifice of worship.

It is now announced that trustees of the church prefer that the church be established in Philadelphia.

The roof had been ripped off during the "hurricane" last November, and Mr. Fiori is having this replaced, it is stated.

Bristol Man to Lecture On Bowman's Hill Preserve

An illustrated lecture about the flowers of Bowman's Hill State Wildflower Preserve in Washington Crossing Park will be given at the Bowman's Hill pavilion on Friday, September 14, at 8:30 p. m. Mr. J. Robert Hendricks of Bristol will show his collection of Kodachrome slides taken at the Preserve and the accompanying commentary will be made by Mr. N. C. Fisher, Park Botanist.

Mr. Hendricks has made nature photography his avocation for many years, and his color photographs of wildflowers are particularly outstanding. Since he makes it a rule never to disturb a plant in order to photograph it, all of his slides show the plants in their natural positions and surroundings. He prefers to use a 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 film rather than the usual 3 1/2 millimeter size, so that his slides are especially suitable for projection.

There is no charge for the lecture, and everyone who is interested in wildflowers is invited to attend.

POLICE ROUND-UP GANG OF YOUTHS

"Gang Fight" Staged, Police Say, at Croydon Monday Night

CAR OWNER IS HELD

Hangs Her 2 Children; Stabs Self

Easton—A young mother hanged her two children today, police reported, and then fatally stabbed herself in their fashionable College Hill home near Lafayette College here. Police identified the victim as Mrs. Dorothy Gunning Liebermann, 34, and her children, James, Jr., four, and Marna, seven. The bodies of the children were found suspended by a rope from a stairway banister. Mrs. Liebermann, police said, stabbed herself and then placed her head in the oven of the kitchen stove with her gas jets on. Police said the bodies were found by Mrs. Liebermann's husband, James W., upon his return from work at the Bethlehem Steel Plant where he is employed as a night shift supervisor. Liebermann suffered nervous prostration and was unable to furnish police with any details. Coroner David Bachman said several suicide notes were found, but he did not release their contents. Police said Mrs. Liebermann had been mentally depressed and had been under the care of an Easton physician for several years. The physician, Dr. Dwight Chidsey, confirmed the police statement, and told International News Service that Mrs. Liebermann had been treated by a psychiatrist for depression.

NOCTURNAL PIGEONS

Dr. John T. Zimmer of the Department of Birds of the American Museum of Natural History told an inquiring reporter that he couldn't explain why pigeons in New York City's Times Square
reverse normal routine. They sleep in the shadow of Father Duffy's statue by day and prowl
the purlieus of Broadway by night.

As New Yorkers, Dr. Zimmer and the reporter were oblivious to a greater mystery, which is how pigeons or people can sleep anywhere near Broadway, day or night. Broadway and its tributaries throughout the day offer bells and clangs, toots and hoots, bells and bellows and shouts and murmurs, all gathered into a single bludgeon of noise.
After dark, it's more of the same,
plus animated signs and other electrical brilliance.

Day or night on Broadway is destructive of slumber, except for the indurated, which includes actors, musicians and, obviously, pigeons. Environmental disturbances aside, here is nothing surprising about the translation of Times Square pigeons into nocturnal creatures. The area by day offers a spectacle somewhat less than ravishing. Then it is pretty dreary, like a theater stage at 9
a. m. But night and neon cast a deceptive cloak of magic over Broadway. Who could or would sleep when the Great White Way
advertises its expensive charms?

Besides being nocturnal, New York's pigeons are nuisances, as are the pigeons of other cities.
However, pigeons thrive in cities only because city folk feed 'em, a privilege which they exercise in defiance of medical warnings about parrot fever, psittacosis.
Being no fools, they'll stick around as long as free grub is being handed out.

GOING UP

Nothing better illustrates the changes in American education in the last decade than a record of the increased requirements which the would-be teacher is called upon to meet to obtain a job. In four states, five years of study beyond high school are now demanded of prospective high school teachers. Thirty-six other states set completion of a four-year college course as a minimum.

Standards in elementary schools are likewise higher. In 17 states a man or woman seeking to qualify as a teacher in the grades must have a college degree.
Seven more states are moving toward the same objective and have set early deadlines for the new plan to become operative.

Reporting on the results of this survey the Federal Office of Education expresses gratification over the strides which have been taken in the direction of better-prepared teachers. It issues a warning, however, against complacency.
Many states have done nothing or little to lift their standards to even reasonable levels, it avers.

Now that dehydrated jelly is on the market, dried watermelon should soon put in its appearance.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1951
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WEISBADEN, Germany, Aug. 29.—
There has been an affectionate gratitude in my heart
for the four lean and rugged years
I spent on the old Washington
Herald at the kickoff of my journalistic career.
The staff numbered five, and we went to press daily through a series of miracles, legends, stories dictated to linotypers at their machines and other manipulations that make me shudder now when I look back upon them.

Here in Germany there is currently an American radio outfit operating on somewhat the same basis of bailing wire, shoe strings and make-do. It's called AFN—American Forces Network. And although I doubt if you've ever heard of it back home, it's doing a highly effective and praiseworthy job.

Operated by the Army's Armed Forces Radio Service, AFN is a network of radio transmitters dotted around the American Zone of Germany. They all carry the same programs, designed primarily to meet the entertainment listening needs of American Armed Service personnel stationed in Germany and elsewhere in Europe.

The cost of operating AFN is only a drop in the bucket, compared to the $100,000,000 the Voice of America is trying to wheedle out of Congress back home. In fact if anybody handed AFN a million dollars, the smart operators of the radio service wouldn't know what to do with it.

You can stand on any street corner in Germany and you'll hear AFN music or comment coming from radio-equipped cars—German as well as American. And down almost every residential street the majority of radio sets are tuned in on AFN. And the same holds for not only Germany, but France, Britain and other countries I've visited.

AFN programs are mostly musical, interspersed with periodic newscasts. As a starting point, AFN carries 40 hours a week of the most popular state-side variety,
dramatic and musical programs,
which are recorded in New York and flown overseas on tape, just as my broadcasts and news columns from here are flown to the states.

In fact AFN feeds its network
with a plain diet of the U. S. A.
and its news and entertainment
features are making a much bigger impact here than the jazzed-up, often distorted Voice of America broadcasts.

AFN seems to do a better than average job in its choice of recorded music. It keeps be-bop and straight jazz at a minimum, puts great emphasis on musical comedy and light opera, and devotes a reasonable amount of time to the classics. One Air Force sergeant here
told me:

"If you want jazz, you listen to the German stations; if you want good music, you listen to AFN."

AFN newscasts also draw big audiences. They are, of course, a boom to the tens of thousands of Americans in Germany; most of them do not speak or read German.
In addition there are thousands of

Miss Mary E. Brown and Joseph Tritschler Are Wed

NEWTOWN, Aug. 29.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Brown, Creamery road, this morning at 10:30 became the bride of Mr. Richard Joseph Tritschler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene J. Tritschler, Belmont avenue, Croydon. The nuptial mass ceremony was performed in St. Andrew's R. C. Church by the Rev. Daniel J. Daly.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white satin with illusion neckline of nylon lace, fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves, and long, full skirt falling into a train. She wore a crown of seed pearls, from which fell her finger-veil of French illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Mary Burns, maid of honor, was gowned in aqua tulle, fashioned with fitted bodice, wide sash, Peter Pan collar, short sleeves, long full hoop skirt. Her headpiece was of matching tulle with short face veil, and she carried matching aqua roses. Matching mitts completed the ensemble.

Miss Barbara Marie Clark, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Rose Marie Mebs, were bridesmaids. Each wore a rose tulle gown fashioned similar to the one worn by the maid of honor, with matching mitts, headresses and veils, and carried bouquets of matching roses.

Mr. Carl Ruland, Croydon, was best man for Mr. Tritschler, and ushers were Mr. Rene J. Tritschler, Jr., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Oliver Z. Reid.

A breakfast was held for the bride party at the Temperance House, with a reception planned at Yardley Golf Club this evening.

The bridegroom is serving with the U. S. Naval Air Force on the USS "Tarawa," an aircraft carrier.

FIFTH WARD WINS OVER KAISER BY SCORE OF 10 TO 3

Fifth Ward Sporting Club combined timely hitting with errors last evening to trounce Kaiser Metal Products, 10-3, in the first of a three-game semi-final series of the Bristol Suburban Softball League. The second game will be played this evening on the same field, Memorial Park Softball field.

Kaiser Metal did some very poor fielding, especially in the first inning. The Warders were quick to take advantage of the miscues and converted them into runs.

While the Sporting Club was pushing over its ten runs, Kaiser Metal was having difficulty in attempting to solve the fast ball of Stanley Koreya. Koreya struck out eight, including the side in the final inning. He had one bad frame, the fourth, in which the automobile workers scored all their markers. Koreya hit a wild spell in this inning and after Dugan got an infield hit, he walked both Joe Claella and Tony Biancosino to load the bags. McCue drove in two runs with a single and Biancosino scored when McCue died trying to steal second.

Paul Paolillo started on the hill for Kaiser Metal with Claude Deltzer taking up the hill burden in the fifth. In the fourth, Stanley Partake lined out a home run to right field with Danny Pico and Henry Liberatore on base.

Fifth Ward scored twice in the opening canto. "Brownie" Cordisco rapped a double to left. Fahey sacrificed the runner to third. Joe Pica hit to Sassi who fumbled. Cordisco scoring. Chick D'Angelo hit to Capella who erred. Pico hit to Sassi who threw to Capella to force D'Angelo but Capella dropped the ball for another error. Liberatore forced Pica at the plate. Dugan to McCue. S. Cordisco bounced to Capella who again miscued. D'Angelo scoring. Embiscuso hit to Capella who forced Cordisco at second.

After Partake's homer accounted for three runs in the fourth, Fifth Ward tallied another trio of markers in the fifth off Deltzer. J. Cordisco beat out a slow roller towards the mound and went to third on Deltzer's bad throw to first. Fahey bounced out. Cordisco holding third. Pica walked. McCue's low throw got away from Sassi in trying to get Pica going to second. Cordisco crossing. D'Angelo was given a walk. Pico drove in Pica with a hit. Liberatore grounded out, D'Angelo denting the plate.

The final pair of runs were made in the sixth. Mancini got a hit. Dugan threw wild on Partake's roller. Koreya struck out. J. Cordisco scored Mancini and Partake with a base hit.

ROHM AND HAAS WINS 1ST GAME OF SERIES OF THREE

Rohm & Haas won the first game of its three-game semi-final series with Leedom's last evening on the Hunter-Wilson field. Final score was: Rohm & Haas, 7; Leedom's, 2. Manhattan Soap and Hunter-Wilson will play its second game of the semi-final round of the Bristol Industrial Softball League this evening on the latter's field.

"Eddie" Kornichuk hurled the chemical workers to the triumph. He limited the rug-makers to two hits, a triple by Loud and single by Bailey. Both hits figured in the scoring of the Leedom's runs.

Rohm & Haas pounced on Dave Ludwig for seven runs and the same number of hits. Bert Barbeta whaled out a triple with the bags loaded in the fifth to account for a trio of runs. This was the only extra base blow made by the winning combination.

"Gulliver" Poses For Winner of Contest

the "zoo."

The trip to the "zoo," and the luncheon which followed at a Philadelphia restaurant, were the awards of The Bristol Courier, sponsor of the seal name contest. "Kitty Lou" had suggested "Gulliver," the winning name. There were 138 other entries received by contest closing time. The camera, flash gun, bulbs and framed picture of the seal were presented to "Kitty" by Nichols Photo Studio; and another prize is $15 in merchandise, the gift of Smith Model Shop.

"Gulliver" had quite an audience on this auspicious occasion, adults and kiddies lining the fence to watch as he was chased from the water for pictures on the day he received his name. The crowd watched him eat squid offered by Frederick Ulmer, curator of mammals at the "zoo," and watched eagerly as "Kitty Lou" put bulbs in her camera like a veteran and snapped and snapped. Then in turn "Kitty Lou" and the seal had their pictures taken together.

"Gulliver" has been receiving aureomycin with his fish, and also doses of penicillin, but inasmuch as he has not been eating the several pounds of fish per day which he should, he has naturally lost weight.

Greeted at the "zoo" by curator Roger Conant, "Kitty Lou," her mother, Mrs. Frank R. Lynn, a Courier representative, and a photographer, William B. Nichols, were brought up to date on "Gulliver's" condition. "We hope to pull him through," Mr. Conant informed. "He seems fine at times, then slips back occasionally."

From Mr. Conant's office the party went directly to the heavy pool, and there was "Gulliver," sporting among some ducks. A sign informs that the hooded seal was caught in the Delaware River at Bristol, August 8, 1951, and its habitat is given as the north Atlantic.

To prepare for her strenuous day, "Kitty Lou" was up bright and early and had three eggs for breakfast. Her stay at the "zoo," following the picture-taking episode, included visits to her favorite animals, which covered a wide range—the elephants, lions, zebras, huge turtles from the Galapagos islands, the small mammals; and of course "monkey island" was a high spot of the trip.

"Kitty Lou" found that she practically had a police escort down part of Roosevelt Boulevard. She found herself riding alongside an army convoy, and was noting the various pieces of equipment when she realized she was riding right behind the Philadelphia police escort (possibly provided for the army convoy, but which cleared the way for Bristol's contest winner at the same time).

"Kitty's" brother had entered the seal name contest too, but he was as elated as "Kitty" over the fact that her choice of name was the winning one. Now she is hoping that "Gulliver" will pull through this ordeal, overcome the infection from waters of the Delaware River, and that the next time she visits him she can see printed on the sign in his yard the name "Gulliver."

"Kitty" will be in grade four at Jefferson avenue school this fall. Her real name being Kathryn Louise, that is probably how she will be listed for classes. Although "Kitty" has no pets of her own, not even a kitten, a puppy or a canary, she feels she has part ownership in "Gulliver."

Landlords Ask For Rent Increases

now is entitled only to a 5 per cent increase amounting to $2.50 or a total of $60.

"In a case where a landlord was allowed an increase due to a capital improvement, let us say the rent was $50 a month on June 30, 1947. The Area Rent Office allowed the landlord a $10 monthly increase because he installed for his tenant a new garage and an enclosed porch. This landlord under the new law is entitled to a full 20 per cent or a $12 increase. The tenant now must pay $72 a month."

There are more than 400,000 rental units under control in this area which besides Philadelphia, includes Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Bucks counties.

Turchi said that in order to get an increase a landlord must file an application, which he can receive by calling or writing the rent office.

"This 20 per cent increase is not applicable, I want to emphasize, to anyone who is now under a lease. It can only become effective upon termination of the lease," Turchi declared.

"Also, if a landlord obtains an increase greater than the amount finally approved by the rent office, the land lord must return the excess to the tenant."

Any tenant, after receiving a notice of a rent increase, may request the rent office to revoke or modify the order if the landlord is not supplying all required services, he said.
